

Assessment #3 392. Please do all the problems. I only have to recognize that you acquired the information.

SHORT ANSWERS: anything from 1 word to 2 sentences.

1. Name two of the four things that Aid Africa provides for poor villagers.
2. Last night, you read an analysis from the Dean of Boston University's School of Public Health. What did he say causes the health crisis in the US that we might try to change?
3. Before Taylor Klein's talk "Good intentions are Not Enough: Common Failures in Student-Led Development Projects," you read Ivan Illich's "To Hell With Good Intentions". It is a speech that Ivan Illich was giving to a bunch of people that may have been thinking about taking a trip to support poor people. What was he advising these people to do or not to do?
4. Jim Keese leads the Cal Poly Peru study abroad trip. Enterprises introducing a cooking technology should know what "fuel stacking" is. What is it?
5. Pete Schwartz talked about his house. In the discussion he identified something he tries to model for others to follow. What is it that he does that he would like to invite you to also do?
6. On another visit, Pete Schwartz talked about failures (and beauty) in Fiji. He was able to get some things done. For instance, leveraging the community of villagers, he was able to get the science laboratory connected to water. What does he wish he was able to do differently in this process?
7. Carley spoke about Journeyman International's effort to build a super big, nice, bathroom for the library. It had one nice porcelain flush toilet, with a lock on the door, just for people who came to the library to ask for the key. Why did they put in this luxury toilet?
8. During one of the student presentations, Pete asked the presenters to go back so we could admire a slide that was so very wonderful. What type of slide was this?
